1. You can have a great outfit but the look can be ruined with a bad or mediocre haircut.
2. It pays to put effort into having a good hairstyle since it is near your face and one of the first things people notice about you.
3. A good haircut and style is obvious, which shows you have some effort into your personal appearance.
4. Stylists at a salon typically have better and more training. After all, they usually have to go through an apprenticeship after beauty school.
5. A salon will have access to training in the latest styles and can help you achieve more fashion forward looks (if that is what you are after).
6. A good cut and style will allow you more flexibility in terms of using different products to achieve different looks.
7. It's a stylist's job to get you out of a rut.
8. And last but not least, salons have an array of great products to help you with your specific hair needs.
